The 2006 Act means that all unrecorded footpaths and bridleways created before 1949 cannot be recorded after the cut-off date in 2026. The Department for the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs' plans are based on a package of recommendations from a stakeholder working group on unrecorded rights of way that was set up by Natural England. The department informed that after 1 January, 2031, “any historic rights of way not recorded on the definitive map will, with certain exceptions, be extinguished”. The new timeline will not give enough time to compile the large amounts of evidence needed to support applications stated by The Ramblers, a British walking charity. "Re-establishing lost paths would significantly improve the present walking network, creating circular routes or connecting people more easily to local green spaces" the Ramblers said. It is thought that many more miles of historical paths exist but have yet to be identified on old maps.	Before the cut off date of 1 January, 2031 you must apply to your local council to record the right of way you wish to be retained. To make a claim, you need to make an application to the local authority for a Definitive Map Modification Order and need to gather and include evidence to show that a right of way is likely to exist by contacting your local highway authority for their user evidence witness form or use the below link to download the form: https://prod-static.ramblers.nomensa.xyz/media/files/forms-b-c.docx The Ramblers guide explains all the legal concepts in simple English and includes a step-by-step explanation of how to gather evidence for a successful claim based on long use: https://prod-static.ramblers.nomensa.xyz/media/files/ramblers-guide-claiming-unrecorded-public-rights-way-user-evidence.pdf In all reponses please remind that access to nature is necessary for wellbeing and mental health	Open

26	Request for Inquest	change.org/p/grant-an-inquest-to-find-if-air-pollution-caused-my-daughter-s-death?	Air Pollution cause of Premature Death?	Air pollution causes around 40,000 premature deaths per year in the UK, and levels of nitrogen dioxide have been illegally high since 2010 in the vast majority of urban areas in the UK. The government has been taken to court three times over the illegal levels of air pollution in the UK and lost each time. And yet still the authorities are failing to act. On 2nd May 2019, the High Court has decided to open a new inquest into the death of Ella Kissi-Debrah. The Attorney General Rt Hon Geoffrey Cox QC gave consent for the application after receiving new evidence linking Ella's death to illegal levels of air pollution. Almost 180,000 people signed a petition supporting a new inquest, including the Mayor of London.	Closed
